

We live in a culture where the lines are blurred concerning the biblical roles of men and women. This problem has affected Christian families for generations. How should Christians respond? What is the role of the husband? What is the role of the wife? Are we to give into the culture? In this sermon Elder Carl Staten uses Psalms 144 as a foundation to show the importance of both roles, and how adults should be training children to be spiritually and mentally mature; not immature, spiritually inept adolescents.
